Chief Human Resources Officer
Federal Home Loan Bank

Carolyn McKinney, M.S. '92, is Chief Human Resources Officer with Federal Home Loan Bank (FHLB) of Pittsburgh, a SEC-registered, government-sponsored enterprise providing financial liquidity products to its members.

As a member of FHLB's executive team, Ms. McKinney is responsible for strategic human resources leadership, including design and implementation of key initiatives in diversity and inclusion, strategic workforce planning, talent management, organizational development, compensation, benefits, HRMS and compliance. Ms. McKinney also recently served as Interim Chief Diversity & Inclusion Officer and Chief Pandemic Officer. She advises the Board of Directors on strategic workforce planning, executive performance management, succession planning and total rewards strategies.

Prior to joining FHLB in 2015, Ms. McKinney held senior transformational leadership human resources roles at Peoples Natural Gas LLC, Impress North America Inc. and Leedsworld Inc.

"Leaving each organization in a stronger position than when I started has been my goal as a transformational HR leader," she said. "Positioning HR teams as business partners who can add value to the business is what I hope will be my legacy."

Within the community Ms. McKinney has served on several regional nonprofit boards, including Executive Women's Council, Habitat for Humanity of Greater Pittsburgh, YMCA of Greater Pittsburgh and Three Rivers Workforce Investment Board. She also served on a for-profit PowerLink advisory board for a growing business.

Ms. McKinney holds a Bachelor of Arts in fine arts from Carnegie Mellon University, and a Master of Science in human resources management from La Roche University. She is an ICF Associate Certified Coach and a certified Senior Professional in Human Resources.
